

PRESS RELEASE

VAI Project Releases Groundbreaking AI-Generated Music in Collaboration with Dark Spark Media and Elite Maison

[Munich 23. October 2024] – The VAI Project (Voltage Artificial Intelligence), a spin-off of renowned artist Vince Voltage, has taken yet another bold step in pushing the boundaries of AI in the creative world. After successfully releasing art books and exhibitions composed entirely of AI-generated images, VAI Project is now venturing into the world of music, with Dark Spark Media as the official publisher and Elite Maison providing social media and creator support.

The VAI Project was established to challenge the traditional boundaries of art and spark a broader conversation within the creative community about the role of AI in artistic expression. From its inception, the project has been at the forefront of AI-generated media, releasing innovative visual works that have captivated audiences across the globe.

With the release of this new AI-generated music, the VAI Project is exploring the sonic potential of artificial intelligence, blending technology with creativity to produce tracks that reflect the cutting-edge possibilities of this new artistic frontier. The collaboration with Dark Spark Media ensures professional distribution and promotion, while Elite Maison lends its expertise in creator management and social media strategy, amplifying the project's reach and engagement with a wider audience.

“AI is not just a tool, it's a collaborator,” says Vince Voltage, the visionary behind the VAI Project. “With this music release, we are continuing to question what creativity means in an age of machines and algorithms. This is more than just a technological experiment – it's about expanding what's possible in art.”

The VAI Project's AI-generated music will be available on all major streaming platforms, offering listeners an opportunity to experience the unique fusion of human creativity and artificial intelligence. This release marks a significant milestone in the ongoing journey of the VAI Project, as it continues to redefine art and music in the digital age.

For more information, interviews, or media inquiries, please contact:

Contact:

Dark Spark Media

E-Mail: presse@darkspark.media

Website: www.darkspark.media

About VAI Project

The VAI Project (Voltage Artificial Intelligence) is an experimental platform created by Vince Voltage to explore and challenge the limits of AI-generated art and media. Through a range of creative outputs – from art books to music – the VAI Project is dedicated to advancing the conversation on the role of artificial intelligence in the world of art.

About Dark Spark Media

Dark Spark Media is a full-service publisher and media company, specializing in digital and traditional media distribution. Partnering with creators and artists, Dark Spark Media is committed to bringing bold, innovative projects to audiences worldwide.

About Elite Maison

Elite Maison provides social media and creator support services for artists, brands, and creators. By offering tailored strategies and creative management, Elite Maison helps clients maximize their online presence and reach new levels of engagement.